

A photograph of a small, bushy green plant in a terracotta pot. The plant has small, oval-shaped leaves and is growing in a dark soil mix with some perlite. A yellow plastic identification tag is stuck in the soil. The tag has handwritten text in black ink. The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly a greenhouse floor or a table, with some shadows cast across it.

MIRTO FRUTTO
BIANCO GROSSO
26-1-06

